We examined five samples of Orthoptera from the Argentine Republic, including a field recording from La Cumbre, in the Province of Córdoba, between 1996 and 1997. Examinations yielded 1202 specimens of the African species Praecoxaria variabilis (Erichson, 1832). In addition to the field recordings, 29 specimens from the city of Córdoba, collected between 1996 and 1997 by the 1st Department of Entomology of the Facultad de Ciencias Biológicas y Recreativas, of the Universidad Nacional de Córdoba, were collected and examined. Since this species was reported in Argentina, we have presented our findings and discussed its relevance to other fauna in Argentina.Q: Why is my MongoDB query returning an empty dataset? I just started using MongoDB. I am struggling with some queries. If I run this query from the mongo shell it returns 0 results and it seems like all the data is there. > db.collection.find({'uid' : "2"}) > { "Ok" : 1 } But when I run a C# query against the data, I get an empty dataset. > DataSet ds = new DataSet(); >
