"What is an Elden Lord?" An Elden Lord is a powerful guardian who harnesses the power of the Ancient Realms. The name "Elden" comes from the myth that the lands between the ancient kingdoms called "Fallen Realm" and "Ancient realm" were in the midst of a great battle when they were unified by a god. "Rise, Tarnished" The huge fallen cities between the ancient Kingdoms became tarnished by the blood of the war, and the children of this era are called "Rise, Tarnished". You are an Elden Lord who has been guided by the gods to assist those tattered by the war in the Ancient Realms, and to rid the fallen cities of the current conflict. In its first major move on policing technology, Facebook has reportedly acquired AI startup Malimit to bolster its efforts in the area. The Silicon Valley tech giant purchased a majority stake in the startup for an undisclosed sum, according to a report by TechCrunch, which cited anonymous sources. The move comes as the social network steps up its efforts to keep its users safe with the introduction of new privacy settings and the start of the rollout of its Portal video calls. A Malimit spokesperson told Threatpost that the company has been working with Facebook on privacy for some time. "We've had ongoing discussions with the social network since at least the beginning of 2015, including through the summer of 2016," she told Threatpost. "There are a number of projects we have planned jointly with Facebook." bff6bb2d33

Both have letters of inferno flaming upwards from the soil at the top of the pieces. There is also the word COME (CAPITALIZED) on top of each piece. Today's coloring is done in the same style. There are two cloth pins on the top and one on the bottom. this one is a little newer. It has a weird thing on the back side. It's like it's been sewn on. it looks like a thin strip of paper kind of attached to the back piece of the home grow.
