“We have taken a world-class engine with new core innovations and used it to create a number of new gameplay features for FIFA 22 that will enhance the overall level of play on the pitch,” said Tom Regg, director of gameplay at EA Sports. “We are excited to work with our players and help them create the very best player-run moments possible.”

New Goalscorer Mode The new Goalscorer Mode has been designed to be more in-depth than ever before. Up to four players can play as strikers, attacking from a free-kick or cross and can score as many goals as possible. Any player can be the “Goalscorer” on the chosen team and score all the goals. Players can compete one-on-one, in solo games or as a team in a Squad Attack or Lead. There are new features such as two-touch shooting and off-ball passing, as well as new goal celebrations and goalmouth layouts.

Pro-Active AI The pro-active AI has been developed to analyse the opposition and come up with pre-planned moves during matches. The AI system will react to the decisions made by the players and adjust its tactics accordingly. While players can expect a smooth progression towards the opposition goal in the usual scenarios, the AI can also spot opportunities to score out of the clear, and break away from the opposition to play an imaginary attacking pass.

New Tackles EA Sports has upgraded the tackle system with new elements such as power tackles, off-balance tackles, players taking a dive and more. The ability to improve the speed, strength, reach and power of the tackle will also vary depending on the position of the player taking the tackle. When a player tackles his opponent, they will now break the tackle more naturally, and when a player is tackled by multiple opponents they can easily evade the tacklers if they play the situation carefully.

New Pass Animation Improvements A significant amount of work was spent on the pass animations to make the team-mates stand out from one another, to help the players pass with more timing and accuracy. Players will also have more life in their footwork while passing as they will be more able to make more creative moves that will lead to goal.

Improved Player Trajectory Players will be more agile and unpredictable while running at speed. Players will have more of a timing to their movement, and can
