Socrates on Football: FIFA was born in 1958 and set out to become the world's first 'total football' game. In FIFA, you're in control of all aspects of your team's play. You choose your formation, decide on which plays to use, and control the actions of your players. And with more than 70 million gamers around the world playing FIFA, there's never been a better time to step into a virtual world and become a footballing legend. Combine skill, speed, and football intelligence in FIFA, the most realistic game of soccer ever created. Every player makes their own shots and controls their own movement, so you get the feeling you're really on the pitch. In FIFA, you can control your team's play just how you want. You control your players' runs and passes, shots, heading, tackles, and dribbling with the press of one button.

A new first-of-its kind technique system lets you control your players by making them run through the game. With more than 70 million gamers around the world playing FIFA, there's never been a better time to step into a virtual world and become a footballing legend. Become a footballing legend in FIFA with the game that looks, plays, and feels even closer to the real thing. Football Intelligence

Socrates on Football: FIFA's gameplay features a unique combination of technological and artistic innovation. There are new physics-based calculations that let you judge your opponents in every aspect of the game. New player moves and ball control movements combined with new on-screen display touch reactions give you the feeling of being out there with your foot on the ball. Major innovations like new first touch, speed boost and acceleration, precise shot, and intelligent player selection- and all being calculated using AI and real-life physics. FIFA puts you on the pitch and gives you control over the most popular sport on earth. Improve your player's movements and on-screen reactions with a brand new ball control system based on real player actions. You'll be able to control every phase of a pass - especially useful for headers, lobs and shots that make you stand out. A brand-new first touch system allows you to vary your play and successfully test your accuracy even further. Dribble skill is improved with a new real-life bc9d6d6daa

What's new in Fifa 22:

- Create the new club in FIFA. We are no longer only focusing on improving player and manager experience. We have another goal in mind, one that's pretty ambitious: Be the only game to capture and use motion capture data, from real-life players! After extended testing and a lot of player feedback and data collection work, we can now bring this element to Ultimate Team. We've captured more than 40km of player movement, plus accurate goals, saves, and tackles. We have created our version of the players' step-by-step movements.
- Be the GQ of your playground! Now, when in-game challenges are kicked off, don't you just want a bigger piece of the action? Thanks to a global update, challenges make the game more challenge-based, but also fun for you, the player. Crew up with your friends, and stay on top of the competition.
- Whirlwind chase! Better defenders, chase AI?

Talk about a fast-paced game. We've incorporated more video film elements to design the circuits in our goal chase. The faster your opponents run, the faster your efforts get less effective. Best defence wins in the end.

- AI is also a milestone in FIFA. 30 years ago, we introduced the first ever football game to have a professional AI crew. EA Sports Casual study, that's us. The AI's progression and development is making an impact in FIFA. We are more than realistic. The AI takes into account environments, teammate awareness and timings - now the player always understands what happens on the pitch. We make the game as authentic as we possibly can, and we are delighted to be providing our players and fans with the next-gen experience. There's more to come, of course. We are making decision making, like the commitment or timing of goals, testable and playable by the player in real-time.
- Pass The Paddle! The new pass system is the best it has ever been. You now have the ability to pass it exactly where you want to. The new pass maps are based on true physics, allowing you to give a colleague a high pass in an entirely different location than previous games. This allows you to easily perform the right pass to improve your shooting accuracy, or cover more space. You can create your own pass guides by using tools in My Player allows players to transcend into football action. Shooting - FIFA brings Shoot Catchings to a whole new level, with dribbling, lay-offs, and interceptions all crucial to creating and improving your chances of scoring. Kick offs, ball possession and strategy are all at your disposal. Crucial to any good player is how you control the ball, and that's why we've completely redefined that to give you more control than ever with the new XPass Control. The pass to feet mechanic has been improved, allowing players to pass the ball without having to touch it. Simply get close to the ball, and the receiver will receive the perfect pass, even if they have not touched the ball. The new drop pass mechanic has been improved. With the drop pass, a player can play a backwards or sideways pass to a teammate with perfect accuracy by dropping the ball behind his back or on his shoulder. With the new flick kick, players can execute a flick kick and pass at the last moment, allowing for a team move or dribble towards a teammate. Passing around the goalkeeper remains the ultimate goal to score and goals will remain one of the most exciting areas of the game. One
